

A CAREER IN AGED CARE

CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support

ABOUT THE COURSE

This course is nationally recognised under the Australian Qualifications Framework, and upon completion you could gain employment in many different types of positions to suit your needs and personal goals. Throughout this course you'll learn how to provide support to meet personal care needs, implement individualised plans and empower those with disabilities. Potential career outcomes: Accommodation Support Worker, Care Assistant, Community Care Worker, Disability Support Worker, Residential Care Officer.

WHO'S IT FOR

For those wishing to work in aged care facilities and the home care sector of the community services industry

COURSE DURATION

This course runs for a period of 17 weeks

DELIVERY METHOD

Face to face, on-line and work based learning activities

COST

Generous subsidies are available to suitable applicants. Call us to find out if you qualify for one of our scholarships

ASSESSMENTS

Assessment methods may include verbal, written and observational, as well as third party reports

FACILITATORS

Our facilitators have relevant on-the-job experience, meaning they understand the challenges and requirements of the industry

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

120 hours of work experience in the health and community sector

Identify safe work practices for direct care

Improve workplace communication skills and provide person-centred support